TV PIPELINE

By Jay Bobbin

Q: What happened to the show “Madam Secretary”? I can’t seem to find it anymore. — Brad Scheiner, via e-mail

A: It’s still in CBS’ Sunday-night lineup, though it admittedly was difficult to find for a while. The Tea Leoni-starring drama was pre-empted for several weeks during the Winter Olympics, with the network testing some of its other series in that slot to see how those would perform. However, “Madam Secretary” — which counts Morgan Freeman among its executive producers — has returned to its regular time period to finish out its fourth season.

Tea Leoni

Q: Where is the show with Linda Lavin and Elliott Gould? Was it canceled? — Charlotte Wolff, Boynton Beach, Fla.

A: As of this writing, it’s merely a case of its season having ended early. “9JKL” finished its complete freshman run in February, and CBS hasn’t yet made a decision on whether it will get another year.

Though Lavin and Gould undoubtedly would appreciate your identifying the show by mentioning them, the sitcom first and foremost belongs to Mark Feuerstein, since it’s based on his own experience of living between relatives — literally, just like in the series — while he was getting his acting career going.

Q: “Knots Landing” used to be on Soapnet. Will it ever be on again? Also, will there ever be a remake of it? — Steve Jones, Columbus, Ind.

A: As regular readers of this column know, “ever” is a word we don’t — and can’t — give a definitive response to. “Knots Landing” may not be on now (which it isn’t), but who’s to say it won’t resurface five or nine years from now, which we don’t know at this point? Soapnet did serve as an ideal home for those repeats, as was the case for a number of serials, since that now-defunct network had a lot of hours to fill with relevant content.

As for a “Knots Landing” reboot, we’ve heard no talk about that. It’s interesting to note, though, that one of its stars is now playing an iconic role on the revival of another classic primetime soap ... since Nicollette Sheridan has assumed the part of Alexis on The CW’s current version of “Dynasty.”

‘The Zen Diaries of Garry Shandling’ profiles a comic genius, warts ‘n’ all

By George Dickie

It is said that the world’s greatest comedy often comes from a place of unhappiness — a place where Garry Shandling frequently took refuge.

Known as one of the top stand-up comics of his day as well as the creator and star of two of television’s most innovative series, “It’s Garry Shandling’s Show” and “The Larry Sanders Show,” Shandling had the courage to use episodes from his own tumultuous life as fodder for laughs. When he died suddenly in March 2016, he left behind a legacy that few could match.

His story is told in “The Zen Diaries of Garry Shandling,” airing Monday and Tuesday, March 26 and 27, on HBO. Directed and executive-produced by Judd Apatow (“Knocked Up,” “Trainwreck,” “Girls”), the four-and-a-half hour documentary uses recollections of family and friends — among them Jim Carrey, Jay Leno, Jerry Seinfeld, Kevin Nealon, Sarah Silverman and Conan O’Brien — along with TV clips, personal journals, letters and home video, to paint a picture of a tortured soul with an analytical mind and a keen interest in Eastern philosophy, who seemed to be working through his issues before our very eyes.

“It’s what the documentary is about,” says Apatow, a former “Sanders” writer who considers Shandling a mentor, “is here were his problems, here’s what happened in his childhood and this is how he evolved into a creative person who explored all of those issues in his work. And so a lot of his work was about ego and people who have obstacles to connection and obstacles to love.

“He used to say ‘The Larry Sanders Show’ is about people who love each other but show business gets in the way,” he continues. “So I think he was fascinated by his own interest in being successful but also was well aware that the ego that it takes to be successful sometimes makes you turn into the kind of person you don’t want to be.”

And he resisted ego as best he could. Sprinkled throughout the documentary are entries from his extensive journals, which he began writing in 1977, that were often of a very spiritual nature and reminders to do better — as a comedian and as a man.

“It’s almost like the voice of his journals is his higher self trying to talk him off the ledge at times,” Apatow says. “‘Don’t forget to be present,’ ... ‘You’re missing something by thinking.’”

“In his journals he’s saying that he needs to find the confidence to not think and to just be present and if he can completely clear his head, something funny will appear when it needs to. And so if he’s about to do ‘The Tonight Show,’ he would try to get himself in a place where he would trust that when asked the question, he would think of something funny.”

“The Zen Diaries of Garry Shandling” premieres Monday and Tuesday on HBO.

A British expedition seeks the Northwest Passage and finds 'The Terror' on AMC

By George Dickie

The title of AMC's newest series is "The Terror" but really it should be plural. Inspired by a true story and premiering Monday, March 26, the 10-episode thriller series tells the story of an 1840s expedition by the British Royal Navy to sail into icy Arctic waters and discover the Northwest Passage. Faced with illness, dwindling supplies and a fear of the unknown, among other woes, the crew of the two ships — the HMS Erebus and the HMS Terror — begin to turn on one another.

They're led by Sir John Franklin (Ciaran Hinds, "Game of Thrones"), the commander of the Erebus and the expedition, whose hubris imperils his men; Captain Francis Crozier (Jared Harris, "Mad Men"), the Terror commander who is keenly aware of the dangers of this trip; and Captain James Fitzjames (Tobias Menzies, "Outlander"), a rising star and third in command. Also among them are the ship's doctor Harry Goodsir (Paul Ready, "Cuffs"), and Cornelius Hickey (Adam Nagaitis, "Suffragette"), a mate aboard the Terror.

Tobias Menzies stars in "The Terror," premiering Monday on AMC.

History tells us this expedition didn't end well. Both ships became icebound and were lost, the remains of the vessels being discovered only recently thanks to receding Arctic ice. But it has been the subject of much speculation over the years, including novels such as the one upon which this story is based. And here, the biggest of the terrors is an Arctic monster that stalks the crew but isn't at first seen.

"We wanted (viewers) to not know what it was, how it worked, what the rules were, under what conditions they would see it for as many episodes as we could," explains co-showrunner David Kajganich to a recent gathering of journalists in Pasadena, Calif. "So by the time you get to midway through the season, you'll see what you've been craving to see, but building up that craving was kind of an important part of the way the show is built, the way it wants to engage the audience."

The special effects here are first rate. Barren Arctic landscapes come through the screen in icy blasts, setting an ominous tone. And the close quarters aboard the scale replicas of the ships give a sense of how the real men must have felt.

"The physical reality of what those men endured in those ships," Menzies says, "is, I think, a really huge ingredient in the sort of atmosphere and texture of the piece and was one of the, certainly, exciting things as actors to be able to sort of try and imagine ourselves into what it would have been like to be that close with that number of people."

Bayonne Parking Utility to Change Pay Stations to Pay-by-Plate During Third Week of March

Mayor Jimmy Davis announced that the Bayonne Parking Utility will be changing the operating system in the pay stations at the municipal parking lots day by day from Monday, March 19, through Friday, March 23. The new operating system will be based on charging motorists by their license plates rather than by their parking space numbers.

The Parking Utility issued the following schedule for the changeover:

- On Monday, March 19, the pay stations will change at Parking Lot #2 (West 21st Street between Broadway and Avenue C), Parking Lot #3 (West 22nd Street and Delmonte Drive), and Parking Lot #5 (West 24th Street behind McDonald's Restaurant).
- On Tuesday, March 20, the pay stations will change at Parking Lot #6 (East 24th Street off Church Lane), and Parking Lot #7 (East 24th Street off Church Lane, behind St. Michael's Church).
- On Wednesday, March 21, the pay stations will change at Parking Lot #8 (East 26th Street behind New York Community Bank), and Parking Lot #9 (East 26th Street behind the Post Office).
- On Thursday, March 22, the pay stations will change at Parking Lot #10 ((East 19th Street behind San Vito's Restaurant) and Parking Lot #11 (East 33rd Street between Broadway and Avenue E).
- On Friday, March 23, the pay stations will change at Parking Lot #12 (29th Street and Broadway), and Parking Lot #13 (West 31st Street behind the Bayonne Free Public Library).

The Parking Utility's vendor for the pay-by-plate system, NuPark, has worked with clients in the following sectors: colleges and universities, municipalities, private operators, retail and commercial businesses, healthcare facilities, and airports.

HOROSCOPES

ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20 Aries, take some time to assess a situation before you act on gut instinct. Your initial reaction may not be the best way to go. Ask a trusted friend for advice.

TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21 Taurus, when you get an idea in your head, it can take a monumental effort to persuade you to think otherwise. This week your ideas may need tweaking.

GEMINI - May 22/June 21 Stop planning for the immediate future and start thinking long-term, Gemini. This way you can relax as much as possible and enjoy the ride knowing all things are in order.

CANCER - June 22/July 22 It is very easy to become complacent, Cancer. Just when you thought your week would be routine, things get stirred up in ways you never would have imagined.

LEO - July 23/Aug 23 Leo, if a career change has been on your mind, it may be better to dip a toe into the waters rather than jumping in all at once. Try an internship before making a commitment.

VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22 Virgo, it's understandable that you want to prove yourself as capable as ever. But accepting a little help is not a sign of weakness. In fact, it is a sign of strength.

LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23 Family matters push to the forefront, Libra. This may require all of your attention for the time being. Clear your schedule so you can give this the attention it deserves.

SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22 Scorpio, overcoming challenges as they are presented to you is one of the things that makes you so successful. But even the best task master needs some rest and relaxation.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21 You may find yourself at the center of social occasions, Sagittarius. If you want to be the life of the party, then go ahead. If you want to remain on the sidelines, that's fine as well.

CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20 It's not worth getting into an argument to win a point with someone who doesn't have all of the facts, Capricorn. Rest your case and forge ahead with what you know is right.

AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18 A change of direction may not be the right fit for you at this moment in time, Aquarius. If you have been pondering a move, you may want to devote more time to vetting the idea.

PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20 Splurge on something that you have been considering buying for a while, Pisces. As long as you can afford it, you can splurge without any guilt.

Flowers represent a plethora of different things. Whether you are showing you care, expressing sympathy, or just spreading a little joy someone's way, flowers are a traditional mode for doing so. With this being true, perhaps you can celebrate by seeing Tasha Bondaruk at Blooms for You Floral Boutique where she can help you in arranging a beautiful way to express what you want to say.

Some of you may recognize Tasha from her previous involvement in the flower business. She started at a florist in downtown Jersey City and then moved over to Say It With Flowers in Bayonne, where she was a designer and a manager. Having been there for about 12 years, we Bayonne citizens recognized her dedication and beautiful work. After leaving Say It With Flowers to have her son, Tasha continued working at florists. However, fate intervened when her son was old enough to attend school.

Tasha couldn't imagine a better place to open her own flower shop than Bayonne. After all of the years, Tasha felt that this city was truly home and that it was the best place for her to follow her calling and began running her own floral business.

Pleased to be in business for the past four years since then, Tasha thanks her customer base from Say It With Flowers as well as her newer loyal customers from Blooms for You Floral Boutique.

Tasha's main goal now is to bring back the same cozy allure that she found within Say It With Flowers. She remembers how customers become friends and burgeoned into family. With every intention of bringing that to her own shop, Tasha makes her customers her top priority. In order to do so she creates arrangements that speak to their needs. Instead of working off of a picture or image, she wants to be able to get the personality and situation of her customers and place that into her arrangements for them.

Upon entering this florist, you will see beautiful spring-time flowers and gift items for the season. Tasha also invites anyone who is seeking advice for a party or a wedding. Blooms for You Floral Boutique does basic and specialty pieces for funerals or any other occasions, but their big mission is to create arrangements that truly hold the essence of the person. Tasha understands that even a specific colored ribbon can make the receiver feel that the gift is connected to the giver, making the arrangement that much more special.

WOLFGANG PUCK'S KITCHEN

Bread Pudding for Berry Season

By Wolfgang Puck

Once the pudding has been baked, you have even more choices. As good as it is hot from the oven, it's also delicious lukewarm or cold, making it an even better springtime dessert. And, of course, whatever temperature I serve it at, I think it's always better with a big scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Berry bread pudding a la mode: It's hard to imagine a dessert that sounds more like the taste of spring than that!

BREAD PUDDING WITH MIXED BERRIES AND CHOCOLATE Serves 8
5 cups cubed stale brioche, challah, croissants, or crustless French bread

Butter-flavored or plain nonstick cooking spray

3 cups whole milk

1 cup heavy cream

1 cup sugar

1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract

4 large cage-free eggs

4 large cage-free egg yolks

Pinch of salt

3/4 cup coarsely chopped bittersweet chocolate

1-1/2 cups mixed ripe berries, such as raspberries, blackberries, boysenberries, or blueberries

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F.

Spread the bread cubes on a baking sheet and place in the oven. Toast until golden brown, 8 to 10 minutes. Remove the cubes from the oven, but leave the oven on.

Generously spray a 12-inch round ovenproof pan or a 3-quart baking dish with butter-flavored or plain nonstick cooking spray. Transfer the bread cubes to the baking dish, spreading them evenly.

In a saucepan, combine the milk, cream, and sugar. Bring to a simmer over medium heat, stirring to dissolve the sugar. Stir in the vanilla.

Remove from the heat.

In a mixing bowl, whisk together the eggs and egg yolks. Whisk continuously, slowly pouring 1/2 cup of the hot milk mixture into the egg yolks. Then, while continuously whisking the milk mixture still in the pan, carefully pour the egg mixture into the pan, using a rubber spatula to scrape all of the egg mixture from the bowl.

Pour this custard mixture over the bread cubes. Let sit at room temperature for 5 minutes. Then, with a spatula or the back of a large spoon, gently press the bread down into the custard mixture. Evenly sprinkle on the chocolate chunks and fold them gently into the bread mixture. Evenly spread the berries on top.

Place the baking dish inside a larger roasting pan. Protecting your hand with an oven mitt, partly pull out an oven shelf and place the roasting pan on it. Using a large measuring cup with a pouring lip, pour water into the roasting pan to come about halfway up the side of the baking dish; then, slide the shelf into the oven, taking care to avoid splashing, and close the oven.
