[CNN] State of the Union With Candy Crowley

TV PIPELINE

By Jay Bobbin

Q: Is "Friday Night Lights" coming back, or have I missed finding it? —Corrine Tekavec, Denver

A: Now that the final season of the critically acclaimed, Kyle Chandler-starring football drama has wrapped up its run on DirecTV, the last episodes are set to begin their NBC broadcast run April 15.

Q: Could you tell me if I'm correct in saying that the child in the Disney movie "Eloise at the Plaza" grew up to play Ariel, the oldest daughter, on "Medium"? I think she also played the ill sister in the movie "My Sister's Keeper." —Mary Knapp, Columbus, Ohio

A: You are correct in both cases. Sofia Vassilieva is the young actress; she also played the title character in the TV movie "Eloise at Christmastime."

Q: We are seniors and have wondered if there could be repeats of our favorite series, "Dallas." —Gene and Peggy Weber, Haines City, Fla.

A: Some cable networks have had such repeats over the years, and when all else fails, there always are the DVD sets of the show that have been issued by Warner Home Video. (All 14 seasons are available now.)

It's possible that the original series may resurface later this year, since TNT is making an updated "Dallas" that will feature original cast members Patrick Duffy and Linda Gray; at this writing, Larry Hagman was in negotiations to reprise the role of J.R. Ewing. Jordana Brewster ("The Fast and the Furious") and Josh Henderson also will be in the revival.

Q: Where can I write HBO to thank James Gandolfini for his documentary "Alive Day Memories"? —Shirley Ranaldi, Seal Beach, Calif.

A: You can address your letter to the former "Sopranos" star—who produced the 2007 documentary and interviewed the veterans featured in it—in care of the cable network at 1100 Avenue of the Americas, New York, NY 10036.

Fresh batch of stars gets fired up for 'Celebrity Apprentice'

By Jay Bobbin

No one likes to be fired... but tell that to the latest lineup of famous faces awaiting Donald Trump's judgment.

Actors, singers and athletes again vie for the real estate tycoon's (and potential presidential candidate's) approval in a new round of "The Celebrity Apprentice," the 11th edition of Trump's NBC competition franchise also encompassing the regular "Apprentice."

The latest contest—taped last fall and premiering Sunday, March 6—involves rivals from singers David Cassidy and Dionne Warwick to actors Marlee Matlin and Gary Busey, baseball veteran Jose Canseco, and original "Survivor" winner Richard Hatch.

"I think it's the greatest assembly of people we've ever had," Trump says. "That's really because of the great success of the show. If you look at what's happened to the people we've had before, like Trace Adkins and Joan Rivers and Bret Michaels and Piers Morgan, it's really amazing."

Other new "Celebrity Apprentice" contenders include model Niki Taylor, former "The View" co-host Star Jones, "Real Housewife of Atlanta" NeNe Leakes, and music stars La Toya Jackson, Meat Loaf, Mark McGrath and John Rich.

For every slot, we probably had five or six people," Trump claims. "You don't realize how many celebrities there are. Everybody wanted to be on."

Deaf Oscar winner Matlin ("Children of a Lesser God") says through her longtime interpreter, Jack Jason, that "the entire experience was something I didn't anticipate. I never had seen the show before, though I'd heard a lot about it. You sort of work outside your comfort zone, so it made me very curious. I learned a lot in a very short time. You get a taste of the business world you would never know as an actor."

"It was like being thrown into a fire feet first," Matlin adds. "Dealing with people was the easy part; it was the time factor that really proved to be challenging, getting everybody on the same page. Most people were terrified of the boardroom (where Trump decides weekly whom he'll tell, 'You're fired!'), but I always looked forward to it. I loved the debate, and I loved to watch how everyone interacted."

So did Cassidy, the singing-acting "Partridge Family" icon. He says, "Being a guy who—as an actor or a musician—works well with others, the first thing I do is to try to put the best individuals around me from the standpoints of chemistry and talent, so that everybody ultimately works together for the same result. And that is to make something as good as it can be."

"I felt that a lot of people on my ('Celebrity Apprentice') team were very enthusiastic," Cassidy reflects. "I had never done any reality TV, and the only caveat was that I am not a competitive person by nature. I just don't enjoy having to beat someone. I feel that's counterproductive to what I do."

While "The Celebrity Apprentice" is Cassidy's introduction to the genre, Matlin is no stranger to televised contests, having also competed in season six of ABC's "Dancing With the Stars." However, she maintains she's now had enough.

"I'm over it," she says. "These are two very different kinds of shows. My reason for doing 'Dancing' was that I wanted to show I could do something other than acting. It was fun, I got in good shape, and I wanted to prove to my kids that Mom could do something they would never expect. Meanwhile, this was all about business, branding and budgeting and those kinds of things. It was really interesting."

Marlee Matlin is among the contestants on "The Celebrity Apprentice," starting Sunday on NBC.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

HOROSCOPES ARIES - Mar 21/Apr 20 Aries, think about a point you want to make and then carefully form your words. You want to leave no room for misunderstanding with a pending situation.
TAURUS - Apr 21/May 21 Taurus, after some careful consideration, take matters into your own hands. Whether this will work to your advantage still remains to be seen.
GEMINI - May 22/June 21 Gemini, once you commit to an idea this week, there is no turning back. So you'd better be sure this is the path you want to take. Others aren't so sure.
CANCER - Jun 22/Jul 22 Cancer, be appreciative and grateful when others are being friendly. Oftentimes people want to do right by others without an ulterior motive.
LEO - Jul 23/Aug 23 Leo, seek some professional advice when some unwanted health symptoms arise. It's never good to risk your health for the sake of convenience.
VIRGO - Aug 24/Sept 22 Virgo, you will get just what you have been asking for. But once you get your hands on the prize, you may find it's not as great as you had expected.
LIBRA - Sept 23/Oct 23 Look twice before you leap, Libra, because it will not be easy to reverse what you do once the plan is in motion. Leo is along for the ride on this adventure.
SCORPIO - Oct 24/Nov 22 Scorpio, you can be hopeful that there will be a sudden change in your current situation, but chances are things will be more gradual, especially starting this week.

SAGITTARIUS - Nov 23/Dec 21 Sagittarius, make things a little easier on yourself this week by making a few changes. Dine out one night and let the beds go unmade a few days.
CAPRICORN - Dec 22/Jan 20 Capricorn, while socializing you may find that you have to chat with some people you'd rather avoid. Be personable this week and avoid arguments.
AQUARIUS - Jan 21/Feb 18 Aquarius, it has taken a lot of patience to make it through the last few months. But finally the silver lining is in sight, so sit back and enjoy the respite.
PISCES - Feb 19/Mar 20 Pisces, the early part of the week is bound to be filled with a lot of activity. But come Thursday things wind down quite nicely.

Petridis Hot Dogs

(Since 1923)

546 Broadway, (Cor. of 25th St.)
Bayonne, N.J.

by
David Burstein

Photo by Jennifer Lapinski

Some eighty seven years ago, a young man named Willie Petridis brought his push-cart to Bayonne and set up on a Broadway corner to start serving such satisfying hot dogs to the passers-by that he became an instant success. At the same time he started a tradition that grew with a city and became a landmark unto itself. If you knew Bayonne, you knew of Petridis Hot Dogs. And that's how it is 'till this very day other than the push-cart is now a fully air-conditioned sit-down cafe with an outdoor terrace. However, they still continue to serve hot dogs on a bun with mustard and relish or any way you might like it, with everybody just munching away and enjoying the taste.

Twenty-Fifth Street and Broadway is Petridis corner, and everyone in town seems to know it too. The food has been eaten and loved for generations, and the family has also been loved and admired, for all these many years. Each succeeding generation has served the community as exemplary citizens, part of the woven fabric that makes this town. They anchor the Broadway area where they have stood for decades.

Nonetheless, the foods served here still maintain the high standards set in the earlier years. They are healthy all-beef, they are savory, they are delicious. They've been serving the sabrett label for years, and sabrett hot dogs sizzle and retain their juices. There is nothing like having two of these dogs on a single roll, they double your pleasure with every bite. Alongside on your plate are the famous Petridis cross-cut French fries. They are the crunchiest. You'll savor that taste that seems to linger just a little longer than normal.

With the weather turning warmer and brighter, it's the time of year to take your food outdoors on the terrace, relax and watch the world go by. But no matter where you eat your Petridis hot dogs, indoors or out, you'll still savor the succulent combinations that are personally yours to create. Another choice, if you'd like a change from a hot dog, is the sausage, pepper and onions on a bun that Petridis offers. That's simply another tasty treat you can enjoy.

It's time, once again, to head on over to Petridis at the corner of Broadway & 25th Street and try a hot dog with the works. It's one of life's original pleasures and perks.

WOLFGANG PUCK'S KITCHEN

Down-to-Earth, Stress-Free

Hors d'Oeuvres

By Wolfgang Puck

It's easy to do most of the work several hours ahead, too, combining the meat and seasonings, shaping the mixture into meatballs, putting them into the baking pan, and refrigerating them until you start preheating the oven when guests arrive. Instead of baking the sausages, you can also shape them onto skewers for grilling and broiling - another great way to serve them.

As for the dipping sauce, it's as easy as stirring together mayonnaise and mustard. The only chef's secret you need for this part of the recipe isn't really a secret at all: Start with the best quality bottled products you can find.

Have a fun, stress-free party!

SPICY ITALIAN SAUSAGES WITH MUSTARD MAYONNAISE DIP

Makes 40 sausage balls
2-1/2 pounds ground pork
1-1/2 tablespoons sea salt

1-1/4 tablespoons ground fennel seed
1 tablespoon freshly ground black pepper
1/2 teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes
1/2 teaspoon hot or sweet paprika
1 cup dry white wine

Whole-Grain Mustard Mayonnaise (recipe follows)

In a large mixing bowl, combine the pork, sea salt, fennel, black pepper, red pepper flakes, and paprika. Stir thoroughly with a wooden spoon until the seasonings are fully blended into the meat. While stirring continuously, pour the white wine into the mixture until fully incorporated into the meat.

With clean hands, shape the meat mixture into even balls measuring about 2 tablespoons each, placing them about 1 inch apart on a clean baking sheet. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate until you're ready to cook them.

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Meanwhile, remove the baking sheet from the refrigerator.

When the oven is hot, remove and discard the plastic wrap and put the baking sheet of sausage balls in the oven. Bake for about 20 minutes or until the sausage balls are nicely browned and cooked through; they're done when an instant-read thermometer inserted into the center of a meatball registers 165 degrees F.

Transfer to a heated platter and place a dish of toothpicks or small hors d'oeuvre forks nearby. Serve with Mustard Mayonnaise.

WHOLE-GRAIN MUSTARD MAYONNAISE

Makes 1 cup
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup whole-grain mustard

In a mixing bowl, stir together both ingredients until thoroughly blended. Cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate until serving time.

BEFORE AND AFTER IN THE SOAPS

By Toby Goldstein

ALL MY CHILDREN: While Ryan pursued a lead that Annie has been staying at shelters, Greenlee cut a deal with David: if he finds Emma she'll help him get back his medical license. Letitia, Griffin and Cara's mother, arrived in Pine Valley, intent on stopping her daughter's wedding to Tad. Amanda witnessed Cara try to return Jake's ring. Coming: Colby's impulsive actions on the web draw unwanted attention.

BOLD AND BEAUTIFUL: Amber walked through her new home, unaware that danger lurked, and was saved only by an unsuspecting bystander. However, Bill was determined to rid his family of Amber, who faced a horrifying first night alone in the house, spared by Steffy's unexpected arrival. Coming: Hope tries to move on without Liam.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES: The imposter did more un-Rafe-like things to make Sami believe that her husband is suffering from a personality change. After an MRI showed that "Rafe" was never in an accident, EJ ordered Stefano not to give the real Rafe the memory-erasing drug, but Stefano had already injected Rafe. Melanie had a miscarriage, later telling Philip that although she loves him and forgives him, they can't stay married and he can't leave Parker. Coming: Chloe is overjoyed when she's reunited with her son.

DESPERATE HOUSEWIVES: Susan faced the grim news that dialysis is no longer working and unless she gets a kidney transplant soon, she'll die. Bree channeled all her efforts into finding a donor for Susan. Jealous of Lee and Bob's adopted daughter's routine for the school talent show, Gaby pressured Juanita to come up with something to top it. Coming: Susan learns what her future holds.

GENERAL HOSPITAL: In the aftermath of the car bombing, Brenda, held captive by Theo, was grilled about his grandchild and revealed that Suzanne was present when the child was stillborn. But could it be alive? With Sonny hell-bent on finding her, Brenda escaped and ran into the woods. Sam suffered from hearing loss but made a full recovery. As Patrick and Robin grew closer, Terrell diverted Robin with an offer to work with him on an AIDS grant proposal. Coming: Time may be running out for Brenda.

GOSSIP GIRL: The unexpected arrival of Ben's mother forced issues to surface that posed a threat to Ben and Serena's growing romance. Russell Thorpe was determined to destroy Chuck's family business and ruin his life forever, but his actions risked alienating his daughter, Raina, who couldn't deny her own feelings for Chuck. Coming: Will Ben and Serena survive the latest obstacle to their happiness? ONE LIFE TO LIVE: Arriving too late to prevent Tess from marrying Ford, Brody tried to arrest Ford again but Tess called his bluff. Later, Tess played Roxy and Natalie in order to get Ryder for Ford. When John apologized to Marty about not believing what Natalie did to her, Marty made a cryptic comment about John having lost his son. Coming: Tea isn't pleased by Tomas' interest in Blair.

PRETTY LITTLE LIARS: The police turned their attention toward a new suspect in Alison's death, despite the girls' efforts to keep the focus on Ian. Under grilling by the authorities, Aria, Emily, Hanna and Spencer felt pressured to reveal what "A" has been doing to them. Spencer's newfound alliance with Toby faced a potentially threatening obstacle that was very close to home, while the two outsiders, Hanna and Caleb, started to feel at ease with their companionship. Coming: "A" is not about release his/her grip on the four liars.

YOUNG AND RESTLESS: Although insisting to Sharon that he won't lie for Victor, a threatened Adam was unable to back down from the deal and testified that he forged the trust documents. Later, as Sharon embraced Nick, Adam charged in and punched him. After learning of Adam's testimony, Tucker fired Jack, offering to reinstate him if he brings in Beauty of Nature, while Ashley remained unsure of her brother's loyalty. Coming: Adam's action may benefit Victor.

A&E Network hopes for 'Breakout' hit with new drama

By Stacey Harrison

Who better to help catch a bad guy than another bad guy? Or, if you follow the premise of A&E

Network's crime drama "Breakout Kings," premiering Sunday, March 6, a bunch of bad guys. That's what happens when the U.S. marshals put together a task force made up of some of the most elusive criminals they have ever run down in an effort to catch escaped prisoners currently on the run. For every fugitive successfully captured, the convicts get a month knocked off their sentences. But since they are out in the field with the marshals, the temptation to flee is always present.

The task force is the brainchild of Ray Zancanelli (Domenick Lombardozzi), who picked the members because he knows firsthand how tough they were to apprehend. But he didn't get to pick his partner, Charlie DuChamp (Laz Alonso), a former desk jockey who insists on always letting Ray know who's boss. The struggle for control is often just as fierce as the chase for the target.

It's certainly not the first go-round as a cop for Lombardozzi, who is perhaps best known for his work on "The Wire." His intimidating demeanor and thick Bronx accent are ready-made for tough-guy roles, but there is a wrinkle to Ray revealed at the end of the first episode that gives the character an unexpected dimension Lombardozzi found intriguing.

"You go throughout the whole episode where he's barking at people and he's giving orders, yet at the end of the day he's really no different than who they are," Lombardozzi says. "What attracted me to the story was I see the potential of there being so many different ways to go with Ray."

It's not surprising, perhaps, that the convicts are among the more intriguing characters in "Breakout Kings." Jimmi Simpson ("Date Night") is perhaps the, er, breakout star as Lloyd Lowery, a former child prodigy with mommy issues and a gift for psychoanalysis. There are also Malcolm Goodwin ("American Gangster") as Shea Daniels, a former gang member who knows the streets and comes up with the idea of calling the task force the "Breakout Kings," and Serinda Swan ("Smallville") as Erica Reed, a wily beauty who learned how to track people from her bounty hunter father.

IN FOCUS

"America's Next Great Restaurant," www.nbc.com/americas-next-great-restaurant/

In this NBC competitive reality series (premiering Sunday) from the producers of "Top Chef" and "Project Runway," four accredited investors — including famed chef Bobby Flay — examine folks from different walks of life, who all hope to wind up running a chain of restaurants in three cities: Hollywood, Minneapolis and New York. Plans for the home page include casting/audition photos, along with weekly task-related recipes.

IN FOCUS

"The Celebrity Apprentice," www.nbc.com/the-apprentice/
Now that host Donald Trump is threatening to throw his hat into the presidential ring, political watchers could be paying closer attention to this NBC show, returning on Sunday with a fresh crop of celebrities willing to take the plunge into business. At this writing, the home page was still focusing on the last round of "The Apprentice," but we expect it to update with fresh bios of such celebs as La Toya Jackson, Marlee Matlin, Gary Busey, David Cassidy and Meat Loaf.

IN FOCUS

"Ruby," www.mystyle.com/mystyle/shows/ruby/index.jsp

The Style Network reality series returns for a new season on Sunday, continuing to chronicle Ruby Gettinger's battle to lose hundreds of pounds (and, according to the previews, she's hit a rough patch and backslid a bit). The home page offers photos, videos, DVD information and blogs associated with the show, along with extensive resources on the psychology and physiology of weight loss.
